backbonebooks is an independent publishing house based in Berlin.

Creating objects, fields, spaces in relation to the book as a highly historical & contemporary medium – back bone books performs consistently in a flexible, conceptual and collaborative process. An ever moving construction (organic structure), invariably morphing within it's (in-)/visible productions.

Claudia de la Torre (México-City, visual artist and founder of bbb) and Anna Wlach (Frankfurt am Main, art-historian and writer) met 2012 in Berlin. After 3 years of mindmelting moments they naturally became working-partners, creating an evolving space for artistic thoughts and concepts relating to the medium book. Feel invited anytime, we are excited to collaborate with you!
